Information on the study programmes, the number of state-funded and self-financing places and the tuition fees for the 2026/2027 academic year is provided in the Special Conditions of the Faculty of Mathematics Call, published on the doctoral admissions page.

Enrolment will be conducted in accordance with the final ranking list, in order of appearance on the list, and in line with the enrolment schedule and time slots published on the Faculty of Mathematics admissions webpage. Enrolment of admitted candidates takes place on 26 October 2026. All candidates are kindly asked to appear at the scheduled time, as the enrolment procedure will proceed in their absence. Candidates who arrive late may attend a later session but will be offered only the remaining available places, if any. A candidate who has acquired the right to enrol must enrol no later than the deadline set by the conditions of the Call; otherwise the right to enrol is forfeited.

Candidates must appear in person for enrolment and bring a valid ID card or passport. If a candidate is unable to attend, the authorised representative must provide a notarised power of attorney.

All admitted candidates, regardless of their funding status (state-funded or self-financing), sign a Study Agreement, which governs their mutual rights and obligations (Annex 2 of the Rulebook on Doctoral Studies).
